Ferguson Twp. Child
Dies of ParalysisAnother Case is Reported From Glen
Hope but Little is Known

Infantile paralysis, which some of our people seem to think is more of a theory than a condition, was responsible for the death of a child in Ferguson township, according to the report of Dr. Samuel C. Stewart State Health Board representative for Clearfield county.

Dr. Stewart late last evening was called to the home of a family named Curry in the upper end of Ferguson township to examine a six year old child which had been suffering from what the local physician feared was infantile paralysis.

When Dr. Stewart examined the little patient he discovered it was suffering from a real case of the dread malady and within a short time the child was dead.

The house was placed under rigid quarantine and every effort will be made to prevent the spread of the disease from this point.

Almost simultaneously with the report of the Ferguson township case another case was reported from Glen Hope, where a child in a family named Baer is down with the disease.

The listing of the two cases mentioned above raises the total number of cases so far reported in Clearfield county to eight as follows:

Two at Munson, one at Osceola,

one at Woodland, one in Jordan township, one in Lawrence township, one in Ferguson township and one at Glen Hope.

While, as has often been said, the medical profession has as yet been unable to isolate the germ, locate the cause or the manner of its transmission it is absolutely necessary that our people comply with the letter of the regulations of the state and local boards of health for the combating of this terrible and practically unknown disease. Weather conditions such as we have been having is supposed to be favorable to the spread of the disease and as long as there is the least bit of reason to fear its spread it is up to every prudent citizen to guard in every possible or probable to prevent its getting a foothold here.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT.

The qualifying round of 18 holes stroke play was run off at the Country club yesterday afternoon. Miss Edith Patton of Curwensville won the medal with the low score of 106. The following matches are to be played this week: Miss Patton vs Mrs. H. B. Douglas; Mrs. G. W. Shillingford vs Mrs. Philip Reed; Miss Katharine Dyer vs Mrs. G. W. Shillingford. These are the preliminary matches for the cup which was won last year by Mrs. G. W. Shillingford.

HOME ON HANNAH
STREET DAMAGED
BY EARLY FIREFlames Start From Furnace and Quickly Spread But Prompt Work Saves It

GOOD WORK BY SILK MILL MEN

The fire alarm sounded at 6:45 this morning and called the firemen out to combat a blaze in a dwelling house on Hannah street belonging to the Clearfield Textile company and occupied by Eugene Carroll and family.

The fire started from an overheated furnace in the cellar and burned through the floor directly under a bed on the first floor. A large hole was burned in the floor, the bed was entirely destroyed, but the fire was confined to the downstairs portion of the house by the prompt action of the employees of the silk mill who soon had a stream of water from the hose at the mill playing on the fire.

Mrs. Carroll is a patient at the hospital at present and Mr. Carroll and their small son were asleep in the house when the fire started, when awakened by the heat Mr. Carroll found the house filled with smoke and had great difficulty in getting out safely with his son, both of whom suffered severely from the effects of the smoke. The property loss will amount to $500.

Bradford's Dollar Day
Next Big EventMerchants Again Decide to Hold Big Bargain Festival.

Bradford, Sept. 12.—Dollar Day for Bradford is now a certainty as Thursday, September 21, has been officially designated as the date for the event. The decision was arrived at Saturday morning when the sub-committee of the trade extension committee of the Bradford Business Men's association, composed of R. B. Johnston, chairman; H. V. Moran, Robert Ralph and Gus Werthman went over the details of the coming event.

Dollar days have long been merchandising features of many towns in the Bradford vicinity and in all places where the plan has been legitimately carried into effect have been great successes from the standpoints of bargains for consumers and of the closing out of stocks by retailers in addition to opportunities to inspect new goods with the attendant and abundant advertising.

Dollar days enable merchants to close out broken stocks of goods in cases where sizes or other features of assortments are no longer complete but at a time while the remaining merchandise is still fresh. Stock accumulations are thus prevented and cash is realized at once on the goods although in slightly reduced quantity. Consumers at the same time are able to procure goods at substantial price reductions without awaiting the arrival of the period when they become shop worn. The mutual benefit is readily conceivable and lends popularity to the plan.

Miss Rosey Mirkin of Steubenville, Ohio, is visiting her uncle, Abe Mirkin, and family on Second street.

MAINE ELECTION EFFECTED
STOCKS

New York, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—Wall street reacted when she received the Maine election returns by sending United States steel common to a new high record, 105 3-8 a big lead of 1 to 7 points when the stock exchange opened today. Republican steel set a new record 65 5-8. Bethlehem steel activity as a "war bride" gained 7 points, and International paper, preferred, strode up 3 points. Cooper was also strong.

Republican Victory
In Maine Forecasts
November TriumphResult is Very Gratifying to Hughes and to Republicans Generally Who
Knew Conditions There

WILSON MAKES NO COMMENT ON RESULT

New London, Conn., Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—President Wilson retired early last night aboard the Mayflower and was not informed of the Maine election results until this morning. He made no comment.

Syracuse, Sept. 12.—"I don't see how we can lose, it is very gratifying," was the comment of Republican candidate Hughes upon the receipt of Maine election returns here.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 12.—Republicans and Democrats alike found satisfaction today in the results of the Maine election because the Republicans sweep the state their satisfaction was more keen than that of their opponents. Frederick Hale for United States senator won by a majority of 10,000 over Senator Charles Johnson his Democratic opponent. Sernald for United States senator won over Kenneth Tills by about 13,000 for the short term. Carl Milliken, Republican won the governorship by 14,000. Republican congressional nominees, Republican state committeemen, and state legislature nominees were elected.

New York, Sept. 12.—Maine election returns resulted in diverse opinions by Republican and Democratic leaders. Chairman Wilson, of the Republican National committee said, "This means a reunited party, that the Progressives have returned to the party and that the election of Mr. Hughes is assured. Democratic chairman McCormick said, "The result of the election in Maine indicates a sweeping Democratic majority in November."

Republicans were jubilant because of the issue of the national campaign and because of the defeat of Charles S. Johnson running on his own record as a Wilson Democrat and supported by the entire Democratic party and by a Progressive who returned to the G. 15,000.

Local People in
Big Auto Smash UpBig Cadillac Collides with Cole's
Near town of Mifflin

A. W. Lee and John W. Wrigley and party met with might have been quite a serious accident yesterday while returning from a trip to eastern cities. Near Mifflin a party riding in a Cadillac car collided with that of Mr. Lee and a great deal of damage was done to the cars. Mr. Lee was able to run his car to Mifflin for repairs and it is fortunate indeed that no one in either party was injured. The accident was one of those that can best be called unpreventable as there was no apparent cause for the cars to collide. The road was practically level and had no curve.

WILL VISIT FAR WEST

Mrs. J. M. Troxel and son Milton, of Clearfield and Mrs. James McKeehen and son John of Berwindsdale, will leave Friday next for Denver, Colorado, to spend a couple of weeks visiting their brother and uncle, Hudson Glasgow, a former Cambria county citizen.

DEATH OF INFANT.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanlon died this morning at their home on Clearfield street aged six weeks.

O. P. fold—Frederick Hale, son of former Senator Eugene Hale. The Democrats on the other hand point to the fact that the former Republican majority was 25,000. Governor Curtis, of Portland, admitted his own defeat by a Republican by a majority of 15,000.

Those Who Tried to Break Up
Big Preparedness Parade at
San Francisco Answer
To The Law

ACT CAUSED DEATH OF TEN

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—The first of the bomb cases resulting from the murder of ten persons by the explosion of an infernal machine in a suitcase planted in the Preparedness parade crowd here July 22, began today when Warren K. Billings, principal suspect, went to trial.

The theory of the prosecution is that Billings and his confederates were not anti-preparedness cranks, as at first was supposed, but sought to kill employees of the local United Railroads, a division of which would have been passing the bomb suitcase at the moment it exploded if the parade hadn't been delayed. Thomas J. Mooney, also indicted for complicity in the bomb plot, unsuccessfully had tried to organize a strike among these employees and the prosecution will claim the bomb was used to get even with the men.

The trials of the four other defendants, Mooney, his wife, Mrs. Rena Mooney, Israel Weinberg and Edward Nolan, will be held later.

Evidence of a sensational character is expected to be given.

The prosecution is based on the theory that Billings under instruction from Mooney, planted the bomb; that Mrs. Mooney was an accessory in manufacturing the bomb and that Weinberg was an accessory in that he transported the conspirators in his jitney bus and had guilty knowledge of the plot.

Four persons were killed outright and the paraders panic stricken when the bomb exploded at the intersection of Stewart and Market streets, in the crowd of 25,000 people. One man died of heart failure and 40 persons were injured, of whom 5 later died.

Among the leaden missiles automobile bearings and bits of metal that sprayed the crowd like shrapnel, enough pieces of leather and clock-work mechanism were picked up to show that the bomb had been set to explode at 2:10 p. m.

Billings served a term at Bolson prison for dynamiting.

PRIMARIES IN COLORADO

Denver, Colo., Sept. 12.—State-wide primaries, marking the second step in the system of making nominations as provided by Colorado's unique primary law, are being held today, when the voters are to make their final selections among the "designated" candidates named in the state conventions. The candidates named in the primaries will comprise the state tickets to be voted for in November. Governor George A. Carlson is a candidate for the Republican nomination and is opposed by Samuel D. Nicholson, of Leadville. Julius C. Gunter, former justice of the state supreme court, is practically unopposed for the Democratic nomination for governor.

LAY CORNER STONE FOR NEW PARLIAMENT HOUSE

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 12.—With impressive ceremonies conducted in the presence of an immense crowd, the cornerstone of the new Parliament buildings was laid today by His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught. The design of the new building will follow closely after that of the old buildings which were destroyed by fire a year ago.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The National Council of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty, a fraternal aid society with a membership of nearly 100,000 began its annual meeting here today with several hundred delegates in attendance from different parts of the country. The officers in charge of the sessions are National Councillor William H. Jeffrey of Vermont, Treasurer Herman W. Reistab, of Lawrenceville, N. J., and Secretary William V. Edkins of Philadelphia.

CONNECTICUT BORDER VOTE

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 12.—Pursuant to the recent call of Governor Holcomb the general assembly of Connecticut convened in special session today for the purpose of making provision for taking the vote of the Connecticut soldiers on the Mexican border, if they are still absent from home at the time of the November election.

ALABAMA TRYING TO LAND
ARMOR PLANT THERE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—The Mussel Shoals district of Alabama, heralded as the coming center of the steel and kindred industries in America, will put in a strong bid for the proposed government armor plant, when Secretary Daniels tomorrow takes up for consideration the proposals from the various cities offering sites for the $11,000,000 plant. It is claimed in behalf of the Alabama site that it is the only district offering the combined advantages of fuel and ore close at hand, together with adequate transportation facilities.

WOMEN WOULD SIT IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Leaders of the suffrage movement are awaiting with keen interest the results of today's primaries in the State of Washington, where two women have been campaigning for nomination to seats in the national senate and house of representatives. Mrs. John B. Allen of Seattle, widow of the first United States senator from Washington, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the seat once held by her husband, while Mrs. Frances Axtell of Bellingham is seeking the Progressive nomination for congress in the second district.

OLD DEFENDERS' DAY IN BAL-TIMORE

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 12.—Old Defenders' day, the anniversary of the battle of North Point, where the Marylanders successfully repelled the British attack upon Baltimore in 1814 was celebrated here today. The anniversary is a legal holiday in Baltimore and is observed with the closing of the banks, exchanges and many places of business. A parade of patriotic, military and other organizations was the chief feature of today's celebration.

ATTENDING STATE CON-VENTION

Postmaster John C. Barclay left this morning for Harrisburg to attend the state convention of Pennsylvania postmasters, which will be in session there today and tomorrow.

ON THE SCREEN

"THE WILD OLIVE"

On the circumstantial evidence of the bloody dagger having been found in his bedroom, young Norrie Ford is indicted on the terrible charge of murdering his uncle, a boss and a bully in an Allegheny lumber camp, and is sentenced to death.

Breaking away from his guards, Norrie escapes into the mountains where he is hidden from the pursuing posse in the cabin of a mysterious mountain girl of beauty and culture, who aids him to make his escape to Argentine, after they have vowed their love for each other.

Growing a beard and changing his name, Norrie Ford soon becomes a favorite in the best circles of gay Buenos Ayres. Sending letter after letter to the mountain girl, whom he knows only as "The Wild Olive" the letters are all returned marked "No 22." It is his endeavor to forget her he becomes engaged to a New York girl and shortly after is transferred to New York by his firm. Venturing back to the states he finds "The Wild Olive" again, only to learn that she is the girl chum of his betrothed.

Meanwhile he has been seen by a detective who was one of the deputies during his trial for murder. The clash between Norrie's fiancée and "The Wild Olive" and the latter's noble sacrifice not only to the fiancée but also to an attorney suitor on condition that he clear Norrie of the murder charge, culminate in a dramatic courtroom scene where the identity of the real murderer is discovered and Norrie is acquitted. At the opera house tomorrow evening.

Joseph H. Calt president of the publishing house of Moffat, Yard and Company, has been elected chairman of the board of trustees of the American Defense Society.

COLLEGE TENNIS STARTS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—Half a dozen of the principal eastern colleges and universities, together with the University of California in the far west, are represented in the annual tournament for the intercollegiate lawn tennis championships in singles and doubles which began today on the courts of the Merion Cricket club at Haverford. The records of this year's contestants give promise of some spirited competitions before the matches are concluded at the end of the week.

Postmaster Con Allen of DuBois, was in town between trains this morning on his way to Harrisburg to attend the state postmaster's convention.

COMMISSIONER
WISSER AIDED,
SAYS DAUGHTERDravosburg Official Relieved of Dis-
tressing Catarrhal Affections

Mrs. Wm. Kerfoot recently made the following statement regarding the benefits her father, Henry Wisser, the street commissioner of Dravosburg, Pa., received from Tanlac, the master medicine.

"Yes," said Mrs. Kerfoot, "I came to give this statement about my father's experience with Tanlac. He was troubled terribly with catarrh of the head and stomach and he doctored for it for years. He always complained in the morning of a fullness of his head and said he didn't feel like he had enough energy to commence his day's work. He seldom ever ate breakfast as he suffered from a sickening sensation which he attributed to the accumulations of catarrhal mucus in his throat.

"He also complained of headaches, and coughed continually throughout some of the forenoons. His sleep became impaired and he had been forced to get out of bed in order to breathe comfortably. These choking sensations troubled him some during the day time, too.

"I read about Tanlac, and I just determined he should try it at my expense. I bought the medicine and asked him to take it. At first, he was a bit skeptical as he had failed to obtain relief through other medicines he had taken. I persuaded him to try Tanlac though and now he is very glad that he took my advice.

"The accumulations in his throat have disappeared, his appetite for breakfast has improved and he is generally so much better. He said the other day that he is feeling like a new man and I am so glad that the medicine has helped him. I believe that in a very short time if he continues to take Tanlac his catarrh will be permanently cured. I gladly recommend this wonderful medicine on his behalf."

Tanlac the Master Medicine that helped Commissioner Wisser and thousands of others is sold here by Woodward and McPherson where it can now be had.

LIGHT VOTE IN GOVERNORSHIP

PRIMARY IN COLORADO

Denver, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—An extremely light vote in the county districts, which political leaders attribute to the heavy crops and scarcity of labor, is being cast today in the statewide primaries. The heaviest polling is in cities and towns.

The voters are having their final say today on the men "designated" by the state conventions as primary candidates. The Democratic convention made Julius Gunter their unanimous choice for governor. He is unopposed in the primary. The Republican "designated" George E. Carlson, the present incumbent, and Samuel D. Nicholson, to fight it out in today's battle.

Under the Colorado primary law, if a candidate receives ten percent of the state convention vote he is entitled to a place on the primary ballot. As a result of this, nominations for the various state offices, including that of state treasurer, attorney general, state auditor and members of the state supreme court are being contested for by many men.

GOVERNOR PLAYS CUPID

Tokio, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—Another step in the plan of the Japanese government to bring about the amalgamation of the people of Japan and Korea was announced today. Prince Li, heir of the former Emperor of Korea, will soon marry a Japanese Princess of the blood. The emperor already has sanctioned the match and the date for the wedding will be announced in a few months.

The match, which will be largely of a political nature, was arranged by Marshal Count Terauchi, former general of Korea, who came to Japan a few months ago in the role of a spy.

After the marriage the young prince, who is now serving in the Imperial army, will reside in Tokio, with a villa in Seoul.

The former emperor of Korea may move to Tokio to spend his declining years.

The heir apparent has been educated in Japanese schools and has adopted Japanese customs and attire. He is said to be handsome.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

While the final results are not yet known, it is a fact that the results so far shown have been a serious setback to the Democratic claim that another Democratic landslide would capture the nation this year. Maine was not expected to go Democratic as a whole but a great deal better showing was expected by the Democrats and the result will considerably dampen the ardor of those who thought the phrase "he kept us out of war" would catch the Progressive and independent vote.

HARD ON THE KIDS.

The big County Fair is on but the poor kids will have to be content with peeking through the cracks in the board fence at the Fair Ground. No doubt a large number of kids passed from the age of twelve, and older, to sixteen during the last twenty four hours, aged by worry over inability to see the fair and also the necessity of being sixteen years of age to gain admittance thereto. To add to their troubles "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is on the board at the Opera House tonight and not a kid under sixteen will be able to look with awe on Eliza's hairbreadth escape over the floating flocks of ice. It's tough luck bids but there are better days coming.

FARMING.

Farming is different from any other industry from fact that its science causes the earth to produce without entirely robbing the earth of its natural resources. Modern farming is conducted in such a manner, by rotation of crops and fertilization, that each year the land becomes more productive and becomes more valuable. How different from mining! Mining removes from the earth a metallic substance and there is no way to cause to grow what has been removed. Forests have to be reproduced by artificial means. Manufacturing requires the products of the earth but makes no provision for the return of the elements taken therefrom. In farming is the future welfare of the country. It must be fostered and encouraged for it produces food in abundance without the waste of natural resources.

CLUBS TO DISCUSS PAPER FAMINE AT CONVENTION

Atlantic City, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—George H. Gardner, of Cleveland will deliver an address on the paper situation before the convention of the United Typothetae of America which is being held here today, which is expected to start the general discussion of the paper famine and other serious business problems of the printing and publishing business.

The association is the national body of the employing printers of the country. It is to be their 30th annual convention.

The paper famine situation, recently investigated by the federal government and the subject of consideration at all gatherings of printers and publishers this year, probably will be immediately acted upon by the convention.

Reports in every part of the country have been compelled to reduce their size; printing prices, which have been provided any too good a market for the printer anyhow, have been hoisted; and the paper famine, which is as scarce as good paper.

Report will be made tomorrow by J. A. Borden, of Chicago, "The Dangers of Modern Economic Policies as pertaining to the printer" was the topic discussed by A. E. Ommen of New York City at the morning session today.

Fletcher Ford of Los Angeles will address the convention Thursday on "Printers' Credit Pro and Con". President Albert W. Finlay, of Boston, will be chief entertainer at the closing session Thursday evening.

PRIMARY DAY IN GEORGIA

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 12.—The most strenuous campaign that Georgia has known since the days when Hoke Smith and "Joe" Brown used to fight it out at the polls ends today with the state-wide primary for the nomination of Democratic candidates for the state offices to be filled at the November election. The dominant feature of the contest is the fight for the governorship among Nat E. Harris, the incumbent, Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, and Hugh M. Dorsey of Atlanta.

He has taken the name, John Smith, and turned Christian.

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

Mrs. William Twigg, Sr., is home from a Philadelphia hospital, considerably improved in health.

Boyd Farley a son of Frank Farley is home from Akron, O., for a short visit with his parents in this place.

E. W. Rinehart, one of Tyrone's competent citizens and business men, was a Curwensville visitor yesterday.

Mrs. Lydia Edwards, of Clearfield, visited at the home of Mrs. T. J. Robinson, north Filbert street, Sunday and Monday.

An Italian store has been opened up in a building on the Grampian road, near the home of Constable Eli Korb, by a couple of aged people.

A number of Curwensville people wended their way to the county seat to attend the fair and to gaze on the person of the state's highest executive.

Jean Gelnert, who spent the past two days in the borough baste and being unable to furnish a $500 bond, was taken to the Clearfield jail by Constable Korb last evening.

Thomas Dale, son of 'Squire John A. Dale, is visiting at his parents' home on River street. He is employed by the United Gas and Improvement company of Philadelphia.

Your correspondent was in error in stating in Monday's letter that Robert Barber was preaching in Centre county. It should have read Louis Barber and not Robert. We stand corrected.

Rev. James Huber and wife, of Millroy, Pa., arrived yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Becker, the parents of Mrs. Huber, where they expect to remain for the next ten days or two weeks.

Mrs. Anthony Hadden, who was in an auto wreck some weeks ago, and afterwards taken to Clearfield hospital, is getting along nicely and slowly gaining in strength, at the home of her son in this place.

William Wilson has purchased the Ford automobile formerly owned by the late Charlie Spencer, for one hundred dollars for the same. The machine is at the Fuberton garage and is being put in running shape.

Chicken thieves are abroad in the land. Sunday night two men entered the chicken pen of William Bair, and succeeded in getting away with five fat, young pullets before they were frightened away by the inmates of the house.

Joseph Chilcote the boss carpenter at Summit sole leather tannery, left yesterday for a ten days vacation trip. He expects to spend the greater portion of his time in the city of Washington, D. C., and towns along the Potomac river.

Mrs. Scott McFadden who has been ill at her home on Grampian road for several weeks is now able to be up and about the house. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Earl McFadden who has also been quite ill, is said to be convalescing.

Sheriff McCloskey was in Curwensville yesterday and took Valentine Soka on a warrant charging him with malicious slander and for causing a hoarder to be falsely arrested. He failed to secure a five hundred dollar bail bond, hence his incarceration in the county baste.

James Washington, colored, and a first rate citizen of the town for a number of years back, being employed at the Summit sole leather tannery, has gone to Old Virginia, near Richmond, his old home, whence he will spend the next two weeks renewing friendships of bygone days.

N. D. Shirey went to Punxsutawney Sunday expecting to bring his wife home. On his arrival there, he found that she was still under the physicians care and unable to make the return trip with him. She is suffering from the nervous shock now more than the actual injury.

Messrs. Hugh and Homer Hoover were arrested Monday morning by Policeman Clark on a charge of disorderly conduct. They were taken before 'Squire Dale, who fined them each $5.00 and costs, and they being unable or unwilling to pay, were sentenced to the lockup for a term of forty-eight hours.

Poster Lewis and wife arrived in town from Akron, O., yesterday and will spend a week or longer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lew Lewis. Mr. Lewis has been absent from Curwensville about two years, going from here to Akron, where he holds a good paying position in one of the large industries of that city.

William Wise and wife, Willard Brown and wife, and Reuben Bonsal and wife, were in DuBois Sunday and spent the time visiting with Mr. Wise's sister, Mrs. David George. During their absence, Joseph Wentzel, of Altoona, motored over to visit the Wise family and were disappointed in not finding them at home.

A. G. Ammerman has become quite an agriculturist this summer. Last evening he brought in from his farm, this side of Bridgeport, some of the finest tubers that has been seen in town for many a day. He has an acre of them out and expects to harvest over one hundred bushels therefrom. He also harvested over one hundred bushels of oats and has one of the nicest cornfields to be found in this end of the county.

Little Harry Ogden, who has been confined to his home with what was diagnosed as a case of infantile paralysis, is very much improved, and according to what his father told correspondent last evening, is in a fair way to be let out of confinement in a week's more time. The lad is eleven years old, and does not understand why he is shut in a room when he is able to play around, is as lively as a cricket and can eat like a young bear.

Samuel Fay and family, of Falls Creek; John Henry and family, Floyd Henry and family, Reynoldsville; Harold Crawford of DuBois; Thomas Bowley and family, Stoneboro, were a party of people who came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patterson, Southside, Sunday to participate in a sort of a family reunion. The entire party went to the "Pee-wee's" nest park where they ate their dinner and spent the remainder of the day.

The members of Rhoda Rebekah lodge No. 347, I. O. O. F. are going over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Young, at Glen, Richway, on Thursday evening for the purpose of holding a moonlight picnic. The ladies expect to make the trip in automobiles, and anticipate having a pleasant evening at the home of their host. They expect to take enough provision along to satisfy the most ravenous appetites of a hungry crowd after a ride in the open air.

He attended grammar schools of San Diego up to the sixth grade and then entered the San Diego Army and Navy Academy. When Steimann completes his seven-year medical course he will be twenty-one years old, a graduate physician at the age of the average junior class student at Berkeley.

FOR DEEPER WATERWAYS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—The ninth convention of the Atlantic Deep Waterways association, which met in this city today, promises to be a large, influential and highly interesting gathering. For nearly a decade the association has been working for the betterment of the waterways throughout the entire country, but mainly those in the eastern part of the United States. The chief aim of the association is to promote an inland waterway stretching along the Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida, by linking together one system of navigable channels and canals already in existence. The advantage of such a system to the country, it is claimed, would be cheaper freight rates, less loss of life from marine disasters, and benefit to the navy in case of war.

The present convention will continue in session four days and will be addressed by a number of prominent speakers. Congressman J. Hampton Moore is president of the association and the presiding officer of the convention. Arrangements have been made for the delegates to inspect the Delaware and Raritan canal at Trenton and the Chesapeake and Delaware canal locks at Delaware city. Visits also will be paid to the League Island navy yard and to Camden, one of the greatest centers of the ship-building industry in America.

IS SUNSTROKE A DISEASE OR AN ACCIDENT?

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—Whether sunstroke is a disease or an accident today is causing municipal authorities $2,000 worth of worry. George Rau, a city employee, was stricken while at work. He sued the city to compensate himself for the "accident". The city disclaims responsibility.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

By GREEN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. It's only a question of time. The self satisfied business man soon finds his trade disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised it soon will be in a rut. Don't get in a rut. Advertise.

BANKERS TO TELL POOR FOLKS HOW TO SAVE MONEY

KanKas City, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—When the American bankers association meets in this city two weeks hence, President Frank A. Vanderlip of the National City Bank of New York and other financial geniuses will discuss plans to teach Americans of moderate means to save their money.

A special committee of the association has been investigating this matter for more than a year and their report is said to contain some surprises for Mr. Average Citizen concerning his pennies, quarters, dimes and dollars.

The American people of the rank and file, for all their aspirations to live well, have grown quite frugal, though not stingy, it is said. Still there could be a great deal more money saved by the individual that would not take away from his any of the necessities and modest luxuries he now enjoys, it is claimed.

The business sessions will occupy the bankers September 23rd and 29th.

BUILDING MANAGERS IN SESSION

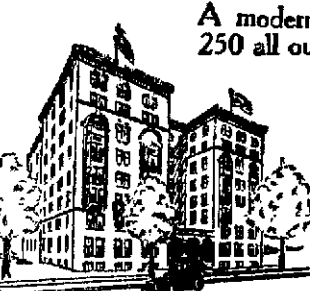

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 12.—Many persons familiar with the work of maintaining and operating mercantile and office buildings are to address the ninth annual convention of the National association of building owners and managers here this week. More than 300 members were on hand today when the gathering was called to order by President Charles E. Doty of Cleveland.

Among the subjects to receive attention during the four days' session are the following: How to make old buildings pay; operating costs and classification of expenses; standardization of maintenance and operation of mercantile and office buildings; the relation of business realty to government; scientific illumination of mercantile and office buildings, and ninety-nine year lease—and their effect on office building financing.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

The Iron Gates, the last great defile of the Danube in its course to the Black sea and the first point at which the Austrians launched an offensive against the new enemies, the Roumanians, is described in the following war geography bulletin which the National Geographic society issued today:

"Contrary to the general belief of readers to whom the term 'Iron Gates' of the Danube is familiar, this famous defile of the chief waterway of Hungary, Roumania, Bulgaria and Serbia does not derive its name from precipitous walls of rock through which the waters dash in a narrow channel, as at the Kazan Defile, but from the dangerous boulders that fairly litter the riverbed for a distance of nearly two miles, beginning at the once strongly fortified island of Ada Kaleh which was captured by Hungary in 1274 and is still inhabited by a picturesque colony of 500 Turks. Opposite this island, on the left bank of the Danube and at the mouth of the inconsequential Bachma river, which here forms the Hungarian-Roumanian boundary, is the attractive little Roumanian customs village of Vencioara on the Buda-pest-Bucharest railway 237 miles west of the latter city.

"It was not until 1890 that work was begun in a definite and comprehensive manner to rid the Iron Gates of some of its greatest dangers to navigation. In that year a Hungarian engineering company undertook the task of removing nearly a million and a quarter cubic yards of stone from the watercourse. Eight years later the enterprise was inaugurated and the canal which had been hewn from solid rock on the Serbian side of the river was ready to be thrown open to the steamers which ply the route from Budapest to the Black sea. The canal was designed to provide a year-round channel ten feet deep, whereas the original course of the river was not navigable for more than nine months out of every twelve. The opening of the waterway was the occasion for a great celebration in which three monarchs participated—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary, King Alexander of Serbia, and King Carol (Charles I) of Roumania. The festivities of the day were somewhat marred by the discovery that the current through the canal was so swift that while steamers could rush through it in their downward journey they could not make the trip upward, so that the old river course had to be used for westward-bound traffic.

"When the water is high the rocks of the Iron Gates are completely submerged but they are only a few feet beneath the surface and the boiling, churning waves present a terrifying sight to the timid passenger as his steamer fights its way to the calmer reaches in the vicinity of Orsova (pronounced Orsova), the first town in Hungarian territory, five miles above the rapids and a ten-hour journey by boat below Belgrade, the peace-times capital of Serbia.

"Instead of the gloomy gorge which most travelers expect to find the banks on each side of the Iron Gates present a beautiful picture of gently sloping hills, bountifully wooded. In the early summer these woods are a fairland of flowers and the winds are fairly weighted with the fragrance of wild blossoms in countless variety, while a short distance from the river the huntsman finds deer, wild boar, bear and other game in abundance. Enhancing the charm of the scene are the songs of myriad birds which make their home in the forests.

"As the river progresses eastward into Roumania the wooded hills disappear and are succeeded by barren sand ridges."

ON NORTH AMERICAN TRUSTS

(By Charles P. Stewart)

Buenos Aires, Sept. 9.—South Americans are deeply interested in the suggestion, referred to in dispatches from Washington and New York, that the Sherman law ought not to be enforced against North American business houses seeking trade on the southern continent.

South America is exceedingly fearful of trusts and especially of North American trusts. The people have their ideas on translations they have read from newspapers in the United States. They believe, literally, the very strongest things they have read concerning the trust evil. It is doubtful if the still untried power of Belgium would regard German incursion with any more placidly than South Americans feel at the hint that the North American trusts may get a grip on them.

This apprehension of trusts, in fact, is a considerable obstacle in the way of American trade progress here.

Consequently this latest suggestion has not been well received.

South American business men who think closer pan-American trade relations would be a good thing express the opinion that the field is too wide open, while the war lasts, that trust methods are unnecessary at the present. Their view is that North American firms would do better to gain a foothold by individual effort, before the European struggle is over, resorting to combinations later if they are compelled to.

HONORS IN STORE FOR BISHOP TUTTLE

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 9.—Next month will witness the most extraordinary demonstration of love, respect and veneration that has ever been paid to a prelate of the Protestant Episcopal church in America. The occasion will be the golden jubilee of the Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, of Missouri, the senior bishop of the American church.

The jubilee celebration will be held in conjunction with the triennial general convention of the church, which will be in session in St. Louis at that time. Among those who will do honor to the senior bishop will be all the high prelates, many noted clergymen and a host of prominent laymen of the denomination throughout the country.

Bishop Tuttle has been the ruling bishop of the Episcopal church since 1902. The office is in a large measure an honorary one. It carries with it some administrative functions, but is principally a mark of sanctity of Episcopal bishops now living.

Bishop Tuttle was the earliest consecrated his consecration dating from 1847, when he was chosen bishop of the diocese of Montana, with jurisdiction in Idaho and Utah. In 1881 he was elected bishop of Missouri, and in 1896 he was elected bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States. He is now in his 80th year, but is as active as the average man of 60. He is exceedingly popular among the members of the Episcopal church, both clergymen and laymen, and is in great demand as a speaker at missionary and other meetings.

AMERICA'S OLDEST COUPLE TO ENTER UNIVERSITY

Columbus, O., Sept. 9.—America's oldest couple, formerly a student of Ohio State university, have been accepted by the University of California, which she announced today. She is Amy M. Winslow, 85, Mrs. Winslow received her education in a log school in 1847. She attracted much attention at Ohio State by giving lectures on chess and on the game of bridge. Last year she attended the women's university. She is a student in botany, physics and mathematics, wherever she goes.

FAMOUS GERMAN COFFEE HOUSES THREATENED

Amsterdam, Sept. 9.—Although it is not admitted in Germany, the famous old German coffee houses, the most popular resort of the masses, is about to go out of business until after the war.

There's a reason. Germany is about out of coffee. For the last two years the Germans have used reserve supplies of coffee stored in Hamburg and Bremen. Xantwerp's supply augmented this when it fell to the Germans in 1914. There since has been a little from Holland and Scandinavia.

Today, however, the British have so effectively stopped shipments to ports reshipping to Germany that none is available therefrom. Germany is brewing the last of her precious berries.

Before the war Germany imported about 55 million dollars worth of coffee a year, mostly from Brazil and Guatemala.

WISCONSIN STATE FAIR.

Millwaukee, Wis., Sept. 9.—On the eve of the opening of the Wisconsin State Fair, all indications are that it will be far better than any of its predecessors. During the present week, and particularly the last few days, exhibits of various kinds are arriving and today the last of the displays will be installed. The entries of live stock of all kinds are large, while the agricultural, horticultural, dairy, manufacturing, machinery and other exhibits are fully up to the high standard established in previous years. Upwards of $20,000 will be distributed in purses at the harness race meeting which will be conducted under the auspices of the Great Western Circuit.

ONE YEAR AGO IN THE WAR.

September 9, 1915—President Wilson demanded the recall of Doctor Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian minister at Washington; Paris announced the German attempt in the Argonne had been checked; Germans failed to gain in stubborn fighting in Riga section and strongly fortified themselves on Vilna front; German army under von Mackensen captured Dubno.

HE KEPT US OUT OF WHAT WAR?

Disingenuous to Boast That It's Through Any Act of Wilson We Are Out of the European Contest.

RATHER SHOULD BE BLAMED FOR MEXICAN BELLIGERENCY

During the Present Administration We Have Seized a Mexican Port and Sent Our Entire Army and Militia to Fight Mexicans While Armed Mexican Forces Have Invaded American Soil and Fought Battles Against Our People.

Sometimes you hear men, sensible men, too, say, "I'm going to vote for Wilson this year because he kept us out of war."

Ask such men a short question. Ask them, "Out of what war?" Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of the European war? No. He has himself in a formal address to congress spoken of the European war as "a war with which we have nothing to do, a war whose causes do not touch us."

How could Mr. Wilson keep us out of a war with which we have nothing to do and whose causes do not touch us?

Did he keep the rest of the western hemisphere out of the European war? No independent nation on this side of the world is involved in it; the only people in it are the colonies of European powers and they had no voice in their fate for they were automatically at war when their mother governments went to war.

Who kept Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru, out of the European war? Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of war with Mexico? No. In his term more Americans have been killed by Mexicans and more American property has been destroyed by Mexicans than by Spaniards during the whole Spanish war.

In his term we have seized a Mexican port and have sent our entire regular army and militia to fight Mexicans. In his term Mexican armed forces have invaded American soil and fought battles against our people within our boundaries.

President Taft went through two Mexican revolutions during his term, the revolution against Diaz and the revolution against Madero. American lives were safe in Mexico during that time. No Mexican cities were seized by Americans and no armed Mexicans invaded the United States while Mr. Taft was in the White House. Yet Mr. Taft never thought of asking the American people to vote for him because he kept us out of war with Mexico. He put an embargo on arms so that American weapons would not be sent across the boundary, and he refused to interfere in Mexican affairs.

When he left office Mexicans liked Americans and Americans were safe in Mexico. Since he left office Mexicans hate Americans and Americans do not remain in Mexico. Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of war with Mexico? Not if words mean anything.

Mr. Wilson did not keep us out of the European war and he did not keep us out of war with Mexico.

Out of what war, then?—Detroit Free Press.

HUGHES' LABOR RECORD.

When Mr. Hughes, remembering only that he is a Democrat and forgetting that he is a leader of organized labor, ventured to assert that Mr. Hughes is unfriendly to labor because he concurred in the unanimous decision in the Danbury haters' case, he ventured on very thin ice. The Chicago Tribune promptly reminds him that an honest judge must apply the law as he thinks it is, not as he thinks it ought to be; and asks him to tell those who look to him for political advice something about the record of Mr. Hughes as Governor. Read what the Legislative Labor News, the official organ of the New York Federation of Labor, said editorially when Mr. Hughes left the Governor's chair at Albany for his place on the supreme court. Here it is:

"Now that Gov. Hughes has retired from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged without hurting anybody's political corns that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the Governor's chair at Albany. During his two terms he has signed fifty-six labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any state.

"He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his messages to the Legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the Legislature.

"Only 102 labor laws have been enacted in this state since its creation in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of those, exceeding in quality all of the others, have been enacted and signed during Gov. Hughes' term of three years and nine months."

Let organized labor take to heart what the Chicago Tribune says on this point: "Mr. Hughes is no demagogue and no visionary. He is a man of courage and conscience, and if labor cannot confide its cause to his rock-bottom Americanism there is something wrong with its cause."—Boston Herald.

FAMILIES SPLIT ON CAMPAIGN

Wives of Wilson Supporters Will Take Stump For Gov. Hughes.

DIVERTING CAMPAIGN PHASE

Washington.—Families are being divided by the present political issue. Here are a few examples. J. A. Hopkins of New Jersey is treasurer of the Progressive (genuine) national committee, and has announced that he personally favors the re-election of Wilson. Mrs. Hopkins is a member of the Woman's party and will take the stump and do all she can to prevent the election of Wilson. Gifford Pinchot is for Hughes, and all the militarism Hughes and his backing can secure. Anne Pinchot is brother. In a number of American Union Against Militarism and will support Wilson as the lesser of two evils. Rep. William Kent of California is a wild-eyed enthusiast for Wilson and is heading a Wilson non-partisan league, while Mrs. Kent is a member of the Woman's party and will stump for the defeat of Wilson.

George Middleton has allied himself with the group of writers who have announced themselves for Wilson, while his wife, Fola La Follette, is one of the members of the Congressional union who will hold Wilson responsible for the defeat of the Hughes-A. Anthony amendment. Meredith Nicholson is a Wilson supporter, but Mrs. Nicholson will write and stump against Wilson on account of his attitude toward the federal suffrage amendment. Mrs. Louis F. Post is a member of the Woman's Peace party and an ardent Trotskyan, while Mrs. Post, assistant secretary of labor, is for the Administration's "reasonable" program of preparedness.

POPULAR HUGHES CAMPAIGN FUND.

The plan adopted by Cornelius B. Bliss, Jr., treasurer of the Republican National Committee, to raise money for the campaign and increase the force of active workers for the election of Charles Evans Hughes to the presidency has peculiar merit. Mr. Bliss asks every one who favors the election of Mr. Hughes and wishes him to have the support of a Republican Senate and House to contribute $10 and become a sustaining member of the Republican party. All such will receive a certificate of membership. That the money will prove a good investment is patent. It will help to secure for the country a more efficient administration of our national affairs, which is necessary for the prosperity and influence of the nation is to continue.

"There are at least 8,000,000 Republicans, but how many of them have any evidence they are beyond the consciousness that they have voted off with the Republican ticket? The work is done by a few and the money ordinarily is provided by fewer. Mr. Bliss' plan offers a cure for that condition. Help the cause and get a certificate of membership that will establish your party affiliation. It is expected that all the 8,000,000 Republicans will give $10 each, but if a goodly number who can afford it do so there will be a great many more able to give much more than $10 each time because Republican success will mean to the country in full measure preparedness, protection and permanent prosperity.

Mr. Hughes is seeing how big the West is, and the West is seeing how big Mr. Hughes is. It is a happy arrangement.

Friends of Wilson are still trying to explain what he meant by "I am proud to fight." But can they tell me what he meant by "strict accountability?"

"Excellent Judges," says Colonel Henry Watkinson, "have ever proved disappointing candidates." He is right. Alton B. Parker was a big disappointment to the Democrats. And so is Charles Evans Hughes.—Toledo Blade.

The Newspaper Is My Best Medium

This assertion was made by W. L. Douglas of Douglas Shoe fame. From a small boy "bound out" by the then drastic apprentice system he has become one of the greatest shoe manufacturers of his time and also the governor of his state, Massachusetts. Through it all Douglas has given honor where honor was due and attributes his success to the use of the newspaper as an advertising medium. To quote Mr. Douglas, "First he sure you have something worthy—something that is just as good as you say it is. Struggle to keep it as good and then keep advertising it constantly. The Newspaper is the field in which my advertising brought me the only satisfactory returns. And I have tried many lines before settling exclusively to that theory."

Prosperity came, but it did not arrive fast enough for the young manufacturer and financier. He looked about for the means of increasing it. The method he chose was extensive and unceasing newspaper advertising, and the plan, successful from the first, has grown more and more remunerative. By judicious newspaper advertising Douglas quickly outgrew factory until in 1892 the present huge plant was constructed just out of Boston.

His victorious campaign for the governorship of Massachusetts was such as to arouse national interest in the man. His wide use of newspaper advertising was easily the most striking feature of his spectacular campaign and contributed in no mean degree to his success.

Mr. Douglas was not an orator, but he knew the value of advertising. Instead of making a speaking appeal to the voters, he purchased columns in all the newspapers. A series of illustrations showing the life history of Douglas from the seven-year-old boy in the shoe shop through the various stages of his struggle and finally as the successful manufacturer made a popular appeal. And during the campaign he never neglected his immense business interests or let up on his shoe advertising. It was a system that could not lose. If he was defeated he would sell more shoes and if he was elected he would sell still more shoes.

The Progress has a service to offer you that is far above the average for a town of this size. Call us on the phone and have our advertising men come and explain to you in detail.

"NO GREATER LOVE"

This is a drama of daring intensity revealing the power of mother-love. "Sudanah the dancer" has a daughter whom she wishes to defend from the perils of the world. In the pursuit of this one thing which has become her one ambition, in fact it becomes a part of her very life, she marries a rich financier and when he gets into serious troubles she compels him to commit murder.

But she too is ready to sacrifice and the call coming, Sudanah, at whose feet the artistic world has paid homage, gives her life for her child.

Sudanah is portrayed by the wonderful emotional actress, Miss Regina. The play was written by Wm. LeQueux and the film is released by the Selig Red Seal plays. See it at the Globe tonight.

"UNCLE TOM" WITH US IN ALL HIS GLORY

In many respects Wm. H. Kibble's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is the most important of the season's productions. In the first place it serves to exploit the masterpieces of two of Europe's noted artists, i.e., Ralph Brunel's elaborate painting entitled "The Celestial City" and Hartzler's picture of the New Orleans slave mart; and secondly it has brought back into prominence the memories of that grand old lady, Harriet Beecher Stowe, and serves to reveal the beautiful lessons really to be learned by careful attention. Second to the Holy Book does "Uncle Tom's Cabin" rank as a sacred instructor. The pulpit has endorsed it as a moral teacher worthy of mankind's support, while the Board of Education in many of the large cities has encouraged scholars in witnessing the worthy dramatization of the story that was instrumental in making our country religious, free and happy. Like a poorly composed book, there are many versions of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" now being forced upon the public under embarrassing covering, which are detrimental to the greatest degree. They are usually short lived for the people of today are not to be hood-winked as easily as those of many years ago. It is a known fact that Wm. H. Kibble possesses the original version of Mrs. Stowe's story and that it has been unanimously accepted by the press, pulpit and public of America and England. The Kibble revival will be brought to the Opera House tonight.

"THE MILLION DOLLAR DOLL"

"The Million Dollar Doll" which will be the offering at the Opera House on Thursday evening, has two of the best comedy characters on the stage today. Melvin Meekman, a henpecked husband, and Jasper Jackson, a colored servant, are left at home to look after the household when the others depart for the San Francisco Exposition. However, Melvin and Jasper are not to be outdone so they disguise themselves and ship on the same boat, Melvin as a common sailor and Jasper as a potato peeler. One can hardly imagine how much trouble these fellows can get into, on the voyage and after they arrive at the exposition they have a hard time getting even one meal a day and are about to give up in despair, when Melvin draws the grand prize in the Argentine lottery and becomes immensely rich. These characters are presented by Harvey and Harold Orr, both recognized stars in their line of work. Seats on sale tomorrow.

STILL MORE ALLIED VICTORIES.

London, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—Announcement of allied victories on important fronts coupled with reports of Greece's preparedness to enter the great war today has caused fevered optimism bordering on enthusiasm. Official reports from Berlin report the British capture of Binchy on the Somme; French troops bombarding the Bulgarian offensive; details of Russian victories in Carpathia;—all of which diplomats and military authorities contribute to the general feeling of allied strength against the Teutons. British dispatches announce Turks have joined the German and Bulgarian forces and are invading Roumania. Berlin advices tell of the scarcity of food in Germany. The distribution of food has not been satisfactory in so far as it has been so highly organized that it is almost on a ration basis.

AMERICANS MAY TILL MEXICAN FARMS

New London, Conn., Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—American farmers to till Mexican soil and American teachers to frame Mexican minds was the subject before the Mexican-American commission in conference today. Such a program is to be part of the regeneration of Mexico. Such numbers will be sent as will set an example for the Mexicans and there is nothing that will smack of American interference or control.

TROUBLES BREWING IN NEW YORK STRIKE

New York, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—Two persons were killed, others probably fatally injured, and eight were badly hurt in the first serious accident since the New York Traction company strike. A union railway car in charge of strike breakers jumped the tracks in the Bronx and collided with two automobiles. The dead are both men who were on their way to work. Four of the injured have fractured skulls. Police reported several attacks on elevated cars early today. Shooting in one instance and brick throwing in others.

VIOLATION OF NEUTRALITY BY GREAT BRITAIN

Washington, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—A dispatch containing the alleged violation of American neutrality in the hold up of the Philippine steamer, Cepu by a British torpedo boat within the three mile limit was received by the state department today from Governor Harrison of the Philippines. Harrison transmitted his dispatch to the war department stating that the Cepu was attacked 1 1/2 mile from Carabo island in Manila Bay. The state department will make representation to the British government immediately.

SUPPORTERS OF CARRANZA CLAIM HE IS STRONGER

New London, Conn., —(By United Press)—Supporters claim that the Carranza regime is in a stronger position, and that a recall may be momentarily expected. State and presidential elections are expected to take place before the first of the year. Mexican representatives at convention called on President Wilson to pay their respects at 2:00 this afternoon.

Ferguson Twp. Child
Dies of ParalysisAnother Case is Reported From Glen
Hope but Little is Known

Infantile paralysis, which some of our people seem to think is more of a theory than a condition, was responsible for the death of a child in Ferguson township, according to the report of Dr. Samuel C. Stewart State Health Board representative for Clearfield county.

Dr. Stewart late last evening was called to the home of a family named Curry in the upper end of Ferguson township to examine a six year old child which had been suffering from what the local physician feared was infantile paralysis.

When Dr. Stewart examined the little patient he discovered it was suffering from a real case of the dread malady and within a short time the child was dead.

The house was placed under rigid quarantine and every effort will be made to prevent the spread of the disease from this point.

Almost simultaneously with the report of the Ferguson township case another case was reported from Glen Hope, where a child in a family named Baer is down with the disease.

The listing of the two cases mentioned above raises the total number of cases so far reported in Clearfield county to eight as follows:

Two at Munson, one at Osceola, one at Woodland, one in Jordan township, one in Lawrence township, one in Ferguson township and one at Glen Hope.

While, as has often been said, the medical profession has as yet been unable to isolate the germ, locate the cause or the manner of its transmission it is absolutely necessary that our people comply with the letter of the regulations of the state and local boards of health for the combating of this terrible and practically unknown disease. Weather conditions such as we have been having is supposed to be favorable to the spread of the disease and as long as there is the least bit of reason to fear its spread it is up to every prudent citizen to guard in every possible or probable to prevent its getting a foothold here.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT.

The qualifying round of 18 holes stroke play was run off at the Country club yesterday afternoon. Miss Edith Patton of Curwensville won the medal with the low score of 106. The following matches are to be played this week: Miss Patton vs Mrs. H. B. Douglas; Mrs. G. W. Shillingford vs Mrs. Philip Reed; Miss Katharine Dyer vs Mrs. G. W. Shillingford. These are the preliminary matches for the cup which was won last year by Mrs. G. W. Shillingford.

GOOD WORK BY SILK MILL MEN

The fire alarm sounded at 6:45 this morning and called the firemen out to combat a blaze in a dwelling house on Hannah street belonging to the Clearfield Textile company and occupied by Eugene Carroll and family.

The fire started from an overheated furnace in the cellar and burned through the floor directly under a bed on the first floor. A large hole was burned in the floor, the bed was entirely destroyed, but the fire was confined to the downstairs portion of the house by the prompt action of the employees of the silk mill who soon had a stream of water from the hose at the mill playing on the fire.

Mrs. Carroll is a patient at the hospital at present and Mr. Carroll and their small son were asleep in the house when the fire started, when awakened by the heat Mr. Carroll found the house filled with smoke and had great difficulty in getting out safely with his son, both of whom suffered severely from the effects of the smoke. The property loss will amount to $500.

Bradford's Dollar Day
Next Big EventMerchants Again Decide to Hold Big Bargain Festival.

Bradford, Sept. 12.—Dollar Day for Bradford is now a certainty as Thursday, September 21, has been officially designated as the date for the event. The decision was arrived at Saturday morning when the sub-committee of the trade extension committee of the Bradford Business Men's association, composed of R. B. Johnston, chairman; H. V. Moran, Robert Ralph and Gus Werthman went over the details of the coming event.

Dollar days have long been merchandising features of many towns in the Bradford vicinity and in all places where the plan has been legitimately carried into effect have been great successes from the standpoints of bargains for consumers and of the closing out of stocks by retailers in addition to opportunities to inspect new goods with the attendant and abundant advertising.

Dollar days enable merchants to close out broken stocks of goods in cases where sizes or other features of assortments are no longer complete but at a time while the remaining merchandise is still fresh. Stock accumulations are thus prevented and cash is realized at once on the goods although in slightly reduced quantity. Consumers at the same time are able to procure goods at substantial price reductions without awaiting the arrival of the period when they become shop worn. The mutual benefit is readily conceivable and lends popularity to the plan.

Republican Victory
In Maine Forecasts
November TriumphResult is Very Gratifying to Hughes and to Republicans Generally Who Knew Conditions There

WILSON MAKES NO COMMENT ON RESULT

New London, Conn., Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—President Wilson retired early last night aboard the Mayflower and was not informed of the Maine election results until this morning. He made no comment.

Syracuse, Sept. 12.—"I don't see how we can lose, it is very gratifying," was the comment of Republican candidate Hughes upon the receipt of Maine election returns here.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 12.—Republicans and Democrats alike found satisfaction today in the results of the Maine election because the Republicans sweep the state their satisfaction was more keen than that of their opponents. Frederick Hale for United States senator won by a majority of 10,000 over Senator Charles Johnson his Democratic opponent. Sernald for United States senator won over Kenneth Tills by about 13,000 for the short term. Carl Milliken, Republican won the governorship by 14,000. Republican congressional nominees, Republican state committeemen, and state legislature nominees were elected.

New York, Sept. 12.—Maine election returns resulted in diverse opinions by Republican and Democratic leaders. Chairman Wilson, of the Republican National committee said, "This means a reunited party, that the Progressives have returned to the party and that the election of Mr. Hughes is assured. Democratic chairman McCormick said, "The result of the election in Maine indicates a sweeping Democratic majority in November."

Republicans were jubilant because of the issue of the national campaign and because of the defeat of Charles S. Johnson running on his own record as a Wilson Democrat and supported by the entire Democratic party and by a Progressive who returned to the G. 15,000.

Local People in
Big Auto Smash UpBig Cadillac Collides with Cole's
Near town of Mifflin

A. W. Lee and John W. Wrigley and party met with might have been quite a serious accident yesterday while returning from a trip to eastern cities. Near Mifflin a party riding in a Cadillac car collided with that of Mr. Lee and a great deal of damage was done to the cars. Mr. Lee was able to run his car to Mifflin for repairs and it is fortunate indeed that no one in either party was injured. The accident was one of those that can best be called unpreventable as there was no apparent cause for the cars to collide. The road was practically level and had no curve.

WILL VISIT FAR WEST

Mrs. J. M. Troxel and son Milton, of Clearfield and Mrs. James McKeehen and son John of Berwindsdale, will leave Friday next for Denver, Colorado, to spend a couple of weeks visiting their brother and uncle, Hudson Glasgow, a former Cambria county citizen.

DEATH OF INFANT.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanlon died this morning at their home on Clearfield street aged six weeks.

O. P. fold—Frederick Hale, son of former Senator Eugene Hale. The Democrats on the other hand point to the fact that the former Republican majority was 25,000. Governor Curtis, of Portland, admitted his own defeat by a Republican by a majority of 15,000.

Those Who Tried to Break Up
Big Preparedness Parade at
San Francisco Answer
To The Law

ACT CAUSED DEATH OF TEN

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—The first of the bomb cases resulting from the murder of ten persons by the explosion of an infernal machine in a suitcase planted in the Preparedness parade crowd here July 22, began today when Warren K. Billings, principal suspect, went to trial.

The theory of the prosecution is that Billings and his confederates were not anti-preparedness cranks, as at first was supposed, but sought to kill employees of the local United Railroads, a division of which would have been passing the bomb suitcase at the moment it exploded if the parade hadn't been delayed. Thomas J. Mooney, also indicted for complicity in the bomb plot, unsuccessfully had tried to organize a strike among these employees and the prosecution will claim the bomb was used to get even with the men.

The trials of the four other defendants, Mooney, his wife, Mrs. Rena Mooney, Israel Weinberg and Edward Nolan, will be held later.

Evidence of a sensational character is expected to be given.

The prosecution is based on the theory that Billings under instruction from Mooney, planted the bomb; that Mrs. Mooney was an accessory in manufacturing the bomb and that Weinberg was an accessory in that he transported the conspirators in his jitney bus and had guilty knowledge of the plot.

Four persons were killed outright and the paraders panic stricken when the bomb exploded at the intersection of Stewart and Market streets, in the crowd of 25,000 people. One man died of heart failure and 40 persons were injured, of whom 5 later died.

Among the leaden missiles automobile bearings and bits of metal that sprayed the crowd like shrapnel, enough pieces of leather and clock-work mechanism were picked up to show that the bomb had been set to explode at 2:10 p. m.

Billings served a term at Bolson prison for dynamiting.

PRIMARIES IN COLORADO

Denver, Colo., Sept. 12.—State-wide primaries, marking the second step in the system of making nominations as provided by Colorado's unique primary law, are being held today, when the voters are to make their final selections among the "designated" candidates named in the state conventions. The candidates named in the primaries will comprise the state tickets to be voted for in November. Governor George A. Carlson is a candidate for the Republican nomination and is opposed by Samuel D. Nicholson, of Leadville. Julius C. Gunter, former justice of the state supreme court, is practically unopposed for the Democratic nomination for governor.

LAY CORNER STONE FOR NEW PARLIAMENT HOUSE

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 12.—With impressive ceremonies conducted in the presence of an immense crowd, the cornerstone of the new Parliament buildings was laid today by His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught. The design of the new building will follow closely after that of the old buildings which were destroyed by fire a year ago.

LIBERTY

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The National Council of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty, a fraternal aid society with a membership of nearly 100,000 began its annual meeting here today with several hundred delegates in attendance from different parts of the country. The officers in charge of the sessions are National Councillor William H. Jeffrey of Vermont, Treasurer Herman W. Reistab, of Lawrenceville, N. J., and Secretary William V. Edkins of Philadelphia.

CONNECTICUT BORDER VOTE

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 12.—Pursuant to the recent call of Governor Holcomb the general assembly of Connecticut convened in special session today for the purpose of making provision for taking the vote of the Connecticut soldiers on the Mexican border, if they are still absent from home at the time of the November election.

ALABAMA TRYING TO LAND
ARMOR PLANT THERE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—The Mussel Shoals district of Alabama, heralded as the coming center of the steel and kindred industries in America, will put in a strong bid for the proposed government armor plant, when Secretary Daniels tomorrow takes up for consideration the proposals from the various cities offering sites for the $11,000,000 plant. It is claimed in behalf of the Alabama site that it is the only district offering the combined advantages of fuel and ore close at hand, together with adequate transportation facilities.

WOMEN WOULD SIT IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Leaders of the suffrage movement are awaiting with keen interest the results of today's primaries in the State of Washington, where two women have been campaigning for nomination to seats in the national senate and house of representatives. Mrs. John B. Allen of Seattle, widow of the first United States senator from Washington, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the seat once held by her husband, while Mrs. Frances Axtell of Bellingham is seeking the Progressive nomination for congress in the second district.

TIMORE

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 12.—Old Defenders' day, the anniversary of the battle of North Point, where the Marylanders successfully repelled the British attack upon Baltimore in 1814 was celebrated here today. The anniversary is a legal holiday in Baltimore and is observed with the closing of the banks, exchanges and many places of business. A parade of patriotic, military and other organizations was the chief feature of today's celebration.

ATTENDING STATE CON-VENTION

Postmaster John C. Barclay left this morning for Harrisburg to attend the state convention of Pennsylvania postmasters, which will be in session there today and tomorrow.

ON THE

"THE WILD OLIVE"

On the circumstantial evidence of the bloody dagger having been found in his bedroom, young Norrie Ford is indicted on the terrible charge of murdering his uncle, a boss and a bully in an Allegheny lumber camp, and is sentenced to death.

Breaking away from his guards, Norrie escapes into the mountains where he is hidden from the pursuing posse in the cabin of a mysterious mountain girl of beauty and culture, who aids him to make his escape to Argentine, after they have vowed their love for each other.

Growing a beard and changing his name, Norrie Ford soon becomes a favorite in the best circles of gay Buenos Ayres. Sending letter after letter to the mountain girl, whom he knows only as "The Wild Olive" the letters are all returned marked "No 22." It is his endeavor to forget her he becomes engaged to a New York girl and shortly after is transferred to New York by his firm. Venturing back to the states he finds "The Wild Olive" again, only to learn that she is the girl chum of his betrothed.

Meanwhile he has been seen by a detective who was one of the deputies during his trial for murder. The clash between Norrie's fiancée and "The Wild Olive" and the latter's noble sacrifice not only to the fiancée but also to an attorney suitor on condition that he clear Norrie of the murder charge, culminate in a dramatic courtroom scene where the identity of the real murderer is discovered and Norrie is acquitted. At the opera house tomorrow evening.

Joseph H. Calt president of the publishing house of Moffat, Yard and Company, has been elected chairman of the board of trustees of the American Defense Society.

COLLEGE TENNIS STARTS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—Half a dozen of the principal eastern colleges and universities, together with the University of California in the far west, are represented in the annual tournament for the intercollegiate lawn tennis championships in singles and doubles which began today on the courts of the Merion Cricket club at Haverford. The records of this year's contestants give promise of some spirited competitions before the matches are concluded at the end of the week.

Postmaster Con Allen of DuBois was in town between trains this morning on his way to Harrisburg to attend the state postmaster's convention.

COMMISSIONER
WISSER AIDED,
SAYS DAUGHTERDravosburg Official Relieved of Dis-
tressing Catarrhal Affections

Mrs. Wm. Kerfoot recently made the following statement regarding the benefits her father, Henry Wisser, the street commissioner of Dravosburg, Pa., received from Tanlac, the master medicine.

"Yes," said Mrs. Kerfoot, "I came to give this statement about my father's experience with Tanlac. He was troubled terribly with catarrh of the head and stomach and he doctored for it for years. He always complained in the morning of a fullness of his head and said he didn't feel like he had enough energy to commence his day's work. He seldom ever ate breakfast as he suffered from a sickening sensation which he attributed to the accumulations of catarrhal mucus in his throat.

"He also complained of headaches, and coughed continually throughout some of the forenoons. His sleep became impaired and he had been forced to get out of bed in order to breathe comfortably. These choking sensations troubled him some during the day time, too.

"I read about Tanlac, and I just determined he should try it at my expense. I bought the medicine and asked him to take it. At first, he was a bit skeptical as he had failed to obtain relief through other medicines he had taken. I persuaded him to try Tanlac though and now he is very glad that he took my advice.

"The accumulations in his throat have disappeared, his appetite for breakfast has improved and he is generally so much better. He said the other day that he is feeling like a new man and I am so glad that the medicine has helped him. I believe that in a very short time if he continues to take Tanlac his catarrh will be permanently cured. I gladly recommend this wonderful medicine on his behalf."

Tanlac the Master Medicine that helped Commissioner Wisser and thousands of others is sold here by Woodward and McPherson where it can now be had.

LIGHT VOTE IN GOVERNORSHIP

PRIMARY IN COLORADO

Denver, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—An extremely light vote in the county districts, which political leaders attribute to the heavy crops and scarcity of labor, is being cast today in the statewide primaries. The heaviest polling is in cities and towns.

The voters are having their final say today on the men "designated" by the state conventions as primary candidates. The Democratic convention made Julius Gunter their unanimous choice for governor. He is unopposed in the primary. The Republican "designated" George E. Carlson, the present incumbent, and Samuel D. Nicholson, to fight it out in today's battle.

Under the Colorado primary law, if a candidate receives ten percent of the state convention vote he is entitled to a place on the primary ballot. As a result of this, nominations for the various state offices, including that of state treasurer, attorney general, state auditor and members of the state supreme court are being contested for by many men.

GOVERNOR PLAYS CUPID

Tokio, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—Another step in the plan of the Japanese government to bring about the amalgamation of the people of Japan and Korea was announced today. Prince Li, heir of the former Emperor of Korea, will soon marry a Japanese Princess of the blood. The emperor already has sanctioned the match and the date for the wedding will be announced in a few months.

The match, which will be largely of a political nature, was arranged by Marshal Count Terauchi, former general of Korea, who came to Japan a few months ago in the role of a spy.

After the marriage the young prince, who is now serving in the imperial army, will reside in Tokio, with a villa in Seoul.

The former emperor of Korea may move to Tokio to spend his declining years.

The heir apparent has been educated in Japanese schools and has adopted Japanese customs and attire. He is said to be handsome.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

While the final results are not yet known, it is a fact that the results so far shown have been a serious setback to the Democratic claim that another Democratic landslide would capture the nation this year. Maine was not expected to go Democratic as a whole but a great deal better showing was expected by the Democrats and the result will considerably dampen the ardor of those who thought the phrase "he kept us out of war" would catch the Progressive and independent vote.

HARD ON THE KIDS.

The big County Fair is on but the poor kids will have to be content with peeking through the cracks in the board at the Fair Ground. No doubt a large number of kids passed from the age of twelve, and older, to sixteen during the last twenty four hours, aged by worry over inability to see the fair and also the necessity of being sixteen years of age to gain admittance thereto. To add to their troubles "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is on the board at the Opera House tonight and not a kid under sixteen will be able to look with awe on Eliza's hairbreadth escape over the floating floes of ice. It's tough luck bids but there are better days coming.

FARMING.

Farming is different from any other industry from fact that its science causes the earth to produce without entirely robbing the earth of its natural resources. Modern farming is conducted in such a manner, by rotation of crops and fertilization, that each year the land becomes more productive and becomes more valuable. How different from mining! Mining removes from the earth a metallic substance and there is no way to cause to grow what has been removed. Forests have to be reproduced by artificial means. Manufacturing requires the products of the earth but makes no provision for the return of the elements taken therefrom. In farming is the future welfare of the country. It must be fostered and encouraged for it produces food in abundance without the waste of natural resources.

CLUBS TO DISCUSS PAPER FAMINE AT CONVENTION

Atlantic City, Sept. 12.—(By United Press.)—George H. Gardner, of Cleveland will deliver an address on the paper situation before the convention of the United Typothetae of America which is being held here today, which is expected to start the general discussion of the paper famine and other serious business problems of the printing and publishing business.

The association is the national body of the employing printers of the country. It is to be their 30th annual convention.

The paper famine situation, recently investigated by the federal government and the subject of consideration at all gatherings of printers and publishers this year, probably will be definitely acted upon by the convention.

Reports in every part of the country have been compelled to reduce their size; printing prices, which have been provided any too good a market for the printer anyhow, have been hoisted; and the paper famine, which is as scarce as good paper.

Report will be made tomorrow by J. A. Borden, of Chicago, "The Dangers of Modern Economic Policies as pertaining to the printer" was the topic discussed by A. E. Ommen of New York City at the morning session today.

Fletcher Ford of Los Angeles will address the convention Thursday on "Printers' Credit Pro and Con". President Albert W. Finlay, of Boston, will be chief entertainer at the closing session Thursday evening.

PRIMARY DAY IN GEORGIA

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 12.—The most strenuous campaign that Georgia has known since the days when Hoke Smith and "Joe" Brown used to fight it out at the polls ends today with the state-wide primary for the nomination of Democratic candidates for the state offices to be filled at the November election. The dominant feature of the contest is the fight for the governorship among Nat E. Harris, the incumbent, Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, and Hugh M. Dorsey of Atlanta.

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

Mrs. William Twigg, Sr., is home from a Philadelphia hospital, considerably improved in health.

Boyd Farley a son of Frank Farley is home from Akron, O., for a short visit with his parents in this place.

E. W. Rinehart, one of Tyrone's competent citizens and business men, was a Curwensville visitor yesterday.

Mrs. Lydia Edwards, of Clearfield, visited at the home of Mrs. T. J. Robinson, north Filbert street, Sunday and Monday.

An Italian store has been opened up in a building on the Grampian road, near the home of Constable Eli Korb, by a couple of aged people.

A number of Curwensville people wended their way to the county seat to attend the fair and to gaze on the person of the state's highest executive.

Jean Gelnert, who spent the past two days in the borough baste and being unable to furnish a $500 bond, was taken to the Clearfield jail by Constable Korb last evening.

Thomas Dale, son of 'Squire John A. Dale, is visiting at his parents' home on River street. He is employed by the United Gas and Improvement company of Philadelphia.

Your correspondent was in error in stating in Monday's letter that Robert Barber was preaching in Centre county. It should have read Louis Barber and not Robert. We stand corrected.

Rev. James Huber and wife, of Millroy, Pa., arrived yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Becker, the parents of Mrs. Huber, where they expect to remain for the next ten days or two weeks.

Mrs. Anthony Hadden, who was in an auto wreck some weeks ago, and afterwards taken to Clearfield hospital, is getting along nicely and slowly gaining in strength, at the home of her son in this place.

William Wilson has purchased the Ford automobile formerly owned by the late Charlie Spencer, for one hundred dollars for the same. The machine is at the Hubert garage and is being put in running shape.

Chicken thieves are abroad in the land. Sunday night two men entered the chicken pen of William Bair, and succeeded in getting away with five fat, young pullets before they were frightened away by the inmates of the house.

Joseph Chilcote the boss carpenter at Summit sole leather tannery, left yesterday for a ten days vacation trip. He expects to spend the greater portion of his time in the city of Washington, D. C., and towns along the Potomac river.

Mrs. Scott McFadden who has been ill at her home on Grampian road for several weeks is now able to be up and about the house. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Earl McFadden who has also been quite ill, is said to be convalescing.

Sheriff McCloskey was in Curwensville yesterday and took Valentine Soka on a warrant charging him with malicious slander and for causing a boarder to be falsely arrested. He failed to secure a five hundred dollar bail bond, hence his incarceration in the county baste.

James Washington, colored, and a first rate citizen of the town for a number of years back, being employed at the Summit sole leather tannery, has gone to Old Virginia, near Richmond, his old home, whence he will spend the next two weeks renewing friendships of bygone days.

N. D. Shirey went to Punxsutawney Sunday expecting to bring his wife home. On his arrival there, he found that she was still under the physicians care and unable to make the return trip with him. She is suffering from the nervous shock now more than the actual injury.

Messrs. Hugh and Homer Hoover were arrested Monday morning by Policeman Clark on a charge of disorderly conduct. They were taken before 'Squire Dale, who fined them each $5.00 and costs, and they being unable or unwilling to pay, were sentenced to the lockup for a term of forty-eight hours.

Poster Lewis and wife arrived in town from Akron, O., yesterday and will spend a week or longer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lew Lewis. Mr. Lewis has been absent from Curwensville about two years, going from here to Akron, where he holds a good paying position in one of the large industries of that city.

William Wise and wife, Willard Brown and wife, and Reuben Bonsal and wife, were in DuBois Sunday and spent the time visiting with Mr. Wise's sister, Mrs. David George. During their absence, Joseph Wentzel, of Altoona, motored over to visit the Wise family and were disappointed in not finding them at home.

A. G. Ammerman has become quite an agriculturist this summer. Last evening he brought in from his farm, this side of Bridgeport, some of the finest tubers that has been seen in town for many a day. He has an acre of them out and expects to harvest over one hundred bushels therefrom. He also harvested over one hundred bushels of oats and has one of the nicest cornfields to be found in this end of the county.

Little Harry Ogden, who has been confined to his home with what was diagnosed as a case of infantile paralysis, is very much improved, and according to what his father told correspondent last evening, is in a fair way to be let out of confinement in a week's more time. The lad is eleven years old, and does not understand why he is shut in a room when he is able to play around, is as lively as a cricket and can eat like a young bear.

Samuel Fay and family, of Falls Creek; John Henry and family, Floyd Henry and family, Reynoldsville; Harold Crawford of DuBois; Thomas Bowley and family, Stoneboro, were a party of people who came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patterson, Southside, Sunday to participate in a sort of a family reunion. The entire party went to the "Pee-wee's" nest park where they ate their dinner and spent the remainder of the day.

The members of Rhoda Rebekah lodge No. 347, I. O. O. F. are going over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Young, at Glen, Richway, on Thursday evening for the purpose of holding a moonlight picnic. The ladies expect to make the trip in automobiles, and anticipate having a pleasant evening at the home of their host. They expect to take enough provision along to satisfy the most ravenous appetites of a hungry crowd after a ride in the open air.

IN UNIVERSITY AT 14.

THEODORE STEIMANN

Theodore Steimann, fourteen-year-old son of Alfred Steimann, a merchant of San Diego, Cal., has registered as a student in the University of California. He is the youngest pupil ever to apply for admittance. He has fifty-six entrance units to his credit. The requirement is only forty-five. He attended grammar schools of San Diego up to the sixth grade and then entered the San Diego Army and Navy Academy. When Steimann completes his seven-year medical course he will be twenty-one years old, a graduate physician at the age of the average junior class student at Berkeley.

FOR DEEPER WATERWAYS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—The ninth convention of the Atlantic Deep Waterways association, which met in this city today, promises to be a large, influential and highly interesting gathering. For nearly a decade the association has been working for the betterment of the waterways throughout the entire country, but mainly those in the eastern part of the United States. The chief aim of the association is to promote an inland waterway stretching along the Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida, by linking together one system of navigable channels and canals already in existence. The advantage of such a system to the country, it is claimed, would be cheaper freight rates, less loss of life from marine disasters, and benefit to the navy in case of war.

The present convention will continue in session four days and will be addressed by a number of prominent speakers. Congressman J. Hampton Moore is president of the association and the presiding officer of the convention. Arrangements have been made for the delegates to inspect the Delaware and Raritan canal at Trenton and the Chesapeake and Delaware canal locks at Delaware city. Visits also will be paid to the League Island navy yard and to Camden, one of the greatest centers of the ship-building industry in America.

IS SUNSTROKE A DISEASE OR AN ACCIDENT?

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 12.—(By United Press.)—Whether sunstroke is a disease or an accident today is causing municipal authorities $2,000 worth of worry. George Rau, a city employee, was stricken while at work. He sued the city to compensate himself for the "accident". The city disclaims responsibility.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

By GREEN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. It's only a question of time. The self satisfied business man soon finds his trade disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised it soon will be in a rut. Don't get in a rut. Advertise.

BANKERS TO TELL POOR FOLKS HOW TO SAVE MONEY

KanKas City, Sept. 12.—(By United Press.)—When the American bankers association meets in this city two weeks hence, President Frank A. Vanderlip of the National City Bank of New York and other financial geniuses will discuss plans to teach Americans of moderate means to save their money.

A special committee of the association has been investigating this matter for more than a year and their report is said to contain some surprises for Mr. Average Citizen concerning his pennies, quarters, dimes and dollars.

The American people of the rank and file, for all their aspirations to live well, have grown quite frugal, though not stingy, it is said. Still there could be a great deal more money saved by the individual that would not take away from his any of the necessities and modest luxuries he now enjoys, it is claimed.

The business sessions will occupy the bankers September 23rd and 29th.

BUILDING MANAGERS IN SESSION

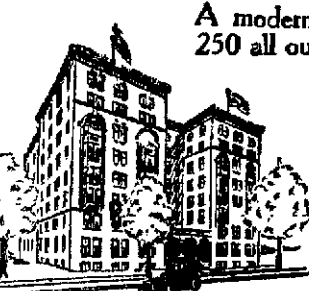

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 12.—Many persons familiar with the work of maintaining and operating mercantile and office buildings are to address the ninth annual convention of the National association of building owners and managers here this week. More than 300 members were on hand today when the gathering was called to order by President Charles E. Doty of Cleveland.

Among the subjects to receive attention during the four days' session are the following: How to make old buildings pay; operating costs and classification of expenses; standardization of maintenance and operation of mercantile and office buildings; the relation of business realty to government; scientific illumination of mercantile and office buildings, and ninety-nine year leases and their effect on office building financing.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

The Iron Gates, the last great defile of the Danube in its course to the Black sea and the first point at which the Austrians launched an offensive against the new enemies, the Roumanians, is described in the following war geography bulletin which the National Geographic society issued today:

"Contrary to the general belief of readers to whom the term 'Iron Gates' of the Danube is familiar, this famous defile of the chief waterway of Hungary, Roumania, Bulgaria and Serbia does not derive its name from precipitous walls of rock through which the waters dash in a narrow channel, as at the Kazan Defile, but from the dangerous boulders that fairly litter the riverbed for a distance of nearly two miles, beginning at the once strongly fortified island of Ada Kaleh which was captured by Hungary in 1274 and is still inhabited by a picturesque colony of 500 Turks. Opposite this island, on the left bank of the Danube and at the mouth of the inconspicuous Bachma river, which here forms the Hungarian-Roumanian boundary, is the attractive little Roumanian customs village of Verciorova on the Buda-pest-Bucharest railway 237 miles west of the latter city.

"It was not until 1890 that work was begun in a definite and comprehensive manner to rid the Iron Gates of some of its greatest dangers to navigation. In that year a Hungarian engineering company undertook the task of removing nearly a million and a quarter cubic yards of stone from the watercourse. Eight years later the enterprise was inaugurated and the canal which had been hewn from solid rock on the Serbian side of the river was ready to be thrown open to the steamers which ply the route from Budapest to the Black sea. The canal was designed to provide a year-round channel ten feet deep, whereas the original course of the river was not navigable for more than nine months out of every twelve. The opening of the waterway was the occasion for a great celebration in which three monarchs participated—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary, King Alexander of Serbia, and King Carol (Charles I) of Roumania. The festivities of the day were somewhat marred by the discovery that the current through the canal was so swift that while steamers could rush through it in their downward journey they could not make the trip upward, so that the old river course had to be used for westward-bound traffic.

"When the water is high the rocks of the Iron Gates are completely submerged but they are only a few feet beneath the surface and the boiling, churning waves present a terrifying sight to the timid passenger as his steamer fights its way to the calmer reaches in the vicinity of Orsova (pronounced Orsova), the first town in Hungarian territory, five miles above the rapids and a ten-hour journey by boat below Belgrade, the peace-times capital of Serbia.

"Instead of the gloomy gorge which most travelers expect to find the banks on each side of the Iron Gates present a beautiful picture of gently sloping hills, bountifully wooded. In the early summer these woods are a fairland of flowers and the winds are fairly weighted with the fragrance of wild blossoms in countless variety, while a short distance from the river the huntsman finds deer, wild boar, bear and other game in abundance. Enhancing the charm of the scene are the songs of myriad birds which make their home in the forests.

"As the river progresses eastward into Roumania the wooded hills disappear and are succeeded by barren sand ridges."

New Greek King And Man Behind The Throne

CROWN PRINCE GEORGE OF GREECE

M. VENIZELOS

ON NORTH AMERICAN TRUSTS

(By Charles P. Stewart)

Buenos Aires, Sept. 9.—South Americans are deeply interested in the suggestion, referred to in dispatches from Washington and New York, that the Sherman law ought not to be enforced against North American business houses seeking trade on the southern continent.

South America is exceedingly fearful of trusts and especially of North American trusts. The people have their ideas on translations they have read from newspapers in the United States. They believe, literally, the very strongest things they have read concerning the trust evil. It is doubtful if the still untried canon of Belgium would regard German incursion with any more pleasurable anticipations than South Americans feel at the hint that the North American trusts may get a grip on them.

This apprehension of trusts, in fact, is a considerable obstacle in the way of American trade progress here.

Consequently this latest suggestion has not been well received.

South American business men who think closer pan-American trade relations would be a good thing express the opinion that the field is too wide open, while the war lasts, that trust methods are unnecessary at the present. Their view is that North American firms would do better to gain a foothold by individual effort, before the European struggle is over, resorting to combinations later if they are compelled to.

HONORS IN STORE FOR BISHOP TUTTLE

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 9.—Next month will witness the most extraordinary demonstration of love, respect and veneration that has ever been paid to a prelate of the Protestant Episcopal church in America. The occasion will be the golden jubilee of the Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, of Missouri, the senior bishop of the American church.

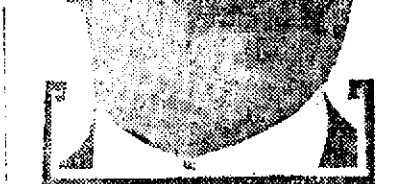

The jubilee celebration will be held in conjunction with the triennial general convention of the church, which will be in session in St. Louis at that time. Among those who will do honor to the senior bishop will be all the high prelates, many noted clergymen and a host of prominent laymen of the denomination throughout the country.

Bishop Tuttle has been the ruling bishop of the Episcopal church since 1902. The office is in a large measure an honorary one. It carries with it some administrative functions, but is principally a mark of sanctity of Episcopal bishops now living.

Bishop Tuttle was the earliest consecrated his episcopacy during 1867, when he was chosen bishop of the diocese of Montana, with jurisdiction in Idaho and Utah. In 1881 he was elected bishop of Missouri, and in 1896 he was elected bishop of the United States. He is now in his 80th year, but is as active as the average man of 60. He is exceedingly popular among the members of the Episcopal church, both clergymen and laymen, and is in great demand as a speaker at missionary and other meetings.

AMERICA'S OLDEST COLE TO ENTER UNIVERSITY

Columbus, O., Sept. 9.—America's oldest coal, formerly a student of Ohio State university, here was sent to the University of California, she announced today. She is Amy M. Winslow, 85, Mrs. Winslow's education in a log school in Ohio in 1847. She attracted much attention at Ohio State by giving lectures on chess and on the game of bridge. Last year she attended a women's university. She speaks of botany, physics and education, wherever she goes.

KING CONSTANTINE OF GREECE

Crown Prince George of Greece becomes king by the abdication of his father, and former Premier Venizelos, the real power in the nation, will be the man behind the throne. For many months a bitter controversy has been waged between the majority of the people led by M. Venizelos against King Constantine, whose training has been German and whose queen is German, the sister of the Kaiser. Her influence has thus resulted in his loss of his throne.

MAN WHO BUILT TOWN FOR WIDOWS NOW BUILDS ONE FOR WORKING GIRLS

Tulsa, Okla., Sept. 9.—(By United Press)—Charles Pace, multi-millionaire oil magnate and the man who built a town—Sand Springs—exclusively for widows and orphans, today completed a tent city here for working girls and provided a free railroad on which to get them to and from it every day.

Pace built Sand Springs and gathered widows and orphans from throughout the country to populate it because he decided, when he was a poor boy trying to make a living for his widowed mother, that if he ever got rich he would do just that. He built the tent city because he thought living in houses in the summer time unhealthy for working girls. More than 100 Tulsa girls are living there now.

The tents are 12 by 14 feet, floored, and boarded on the sides a distance of four feet, with collapsible canvas tops.

Two girls occupy one tent. The tent streets have gas plates every few yards so the girls may cook. There is fresh water and at night, the lights and watchmen guard the town. There is a free bath house for the girls, and they have all the privileges of the park's concessions.

Girls who heretofore had to quit their work in the intense heat of the summer are working all day in a temperature of more than a hundred and forty degrees under it.

Even some of the girls from the wealthier families of Tulsa made application for tents, but without success, the one and only requisite being that a girl is working for her living. The plan works so splendidly that there is contemplation of the building of two hundred more tents for next year.

HE KEPT US OUT OF WHAT WAR?

Disingenuous to Boast That It's Through Any Act of Wilson We Are Out of the European Contest.

RATHER SHOULD BE BLAMED FOR MEXICAN BELLIGERENCY

During the Present Administration We Have Seized a Mexican Port and Sent Our Entire Army and Militia to Fight Mexicans While Armed Mexican Forces Have Invaded American Soil and Fought Battles Against Our People.

Sometimes you hear men, sensible men, too, say, "I'm going to vote for Wilson this year because he kept us out of war."

Ask such men a short question. Ask them, "Out of what war?" Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of the European war? No. He has himself in a formal address to congress spoken of the European war as "a war with which we have nothing to do, a war whose causes do not touch us." How could Mr. Wilson keep us out of a war with which we have nothing to do and whose causes do not touch us?

Did he keep the rest of the western hemisphere out of the European war? No independent nation on this side of the world is involved in it; the only people in it are the colonies of European powers and they had no voice in their fate for they were automatically at war when their mother governments went to war. Who kept Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru, out of the European war? Did Mr. Wilson?

Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of war with Mexico? No. In his term more Americans have been killed by Mexicans and more American property has been destroyed by Mexicans than by Spaniards during the whole Spanish war. In his term we have seized a Mexican port and have sent our entire regular army and militia to fight Mexicans. In his term Mexican armed forces have invaded American soil and fought battles against our people within our boundaries.

President Taft went through two Mexican revolutions during his term, the revolution against Diaz and the revolution against Madero. American lives were safe in Mexico during that time. No Mexican cities were seized by Americans and no armed Mexicans invaded the United States while Mr. Taft was in the White House. Yet Mr. Taft never thought of asking the American people to vote for him because he kept us out of war with Mexico. He put an embargo on arms so that American weapons would not be sent across the boundary, and he refused to interfere in Mexican affairs.

When he left office Mexicans liked Americans and Americans were safe in Mexico. Since he left office Mexicans hate Americans and Americans are not safe in Mexico. Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of war with Mexico? Not if words mean anything.

Mr. Wilson did not keep us out of the European war and he did not keep us out of war with Mexico. Out of what war, then?—Detroit Free Press.

HUGHES' LABOR RECORD. When Mr. Hughes, remembering only that he is a Democrat and forgetting that he is a leader of organized labor, ventured to assert that Mr. Hughes is unfriendly to labor because he concurred in the unanimous decision in the Danbury haters' case, he ventured on very thin ice. The Chicago Tribune promptly reminds him that an honest judge must apply the law as he thinks it is, not as he thinks it ought to be; and asks him to tell those who look to him for political advice something about the record of Mr. Hughes as Governor. Read what the Legislative Labor News, the official organ of the New York Federation of Labor, said editorially when Mr. Hughes left the Governor's chair at Albany for his place on the supreme court. Here it is:

"Now that Gov. Hughes has retired from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged without hurting anybody's political corns that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the Governor's chair at Albany. During his two terms he has signed fifty-six labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any state.

"He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his messages to the Legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the Legislature.

"Only 102 labor laws have been enacted in this state since its creation in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of those, exceeding in quality all of the others, have been enacted and signed during Gov. Hughes' term of three years and nine months."

Let organized labor take to heart what the Chicago Tribune says on this point: "Mr. Hughes is no demagogue and no visionary. He is a man of courage and conscience, and if labor cannot confide its cause to his rock-bottom Americanism there is something wrong with its cause."—Boston Herald.

FAMILIES SPLIT ON CAMPAIGN

Wives of Wilson Supporters Will Take Stump For Gov. Hughes.

DIVERTING CAMPAIGN PHASE

Washington.—Families are being divided by the present political issue. Here are a few examples. J. A. Hopkins of New Jersey is treasurer of the Progressive (genuine) national committee, and has announced that he personally favors the re-election of Wilson. Mrs. Hopkins is a member of the Woman's party and will take the stump and do all she can to prevent the election of Wilson. Gifford Pinchot is for Hughes and all the militarism Hughes and his backing can secure. Anne Pinchot is brother. In a number of American Union Against Militarism of two evils. Rep. William Kent of California is a wild-eyed enthusiast for Wilson and is heading a Wilson non-partisan league, while Mrs. Kent is a member of the Woman's party and will stump for the defeat of Wilson.

George Middleton has allied himself with the group of writers who have announced themselves for Wilson, while his wife, Fola La Follette, is one of the members of the Congressional union who will hold Wilson responsible for the defeat of the Hughes-A. Anthony amendment. Meredith Nicholson is a Wilson supporter, but Mrs. Nicholson will write and stump against Wilson on account of his attitude toward the federal suffrage amendment. Mrs. Louis F. Post is a member of the Woman's Peace party and an ardent Trotskyan, while Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of labor, is for the Administration's "reasonable" program of preparedness.

POPULAR HUGHES CAMPAIGN FUND.

The plan adopted by Cornelius B. Bliss, Jr., treasurer of the Republican National Committee, to raise money for the campaign and increase the force of active workers for the election of Charles Evans Hughes to the presidency has peculiar merit. Mr. Bliss asks every one who favors the election of Mr. Hughes and wishes him to have the support of a Republican Senate and House to contribute $10 and become a sustaining member of the Republican party. All such will receive a certificate of membership. That the money will prove a good investment is patent. It will help to secure for the country a more efficient administration of our national affairs, which is necessary for the prosperity and influence of the nation is to continue.

"There are at least 8,000,000 Republicans, but how many of them have any evidence they are beyond the consciousness that they have voted off with the Republican ticket? The work is done by a few and the money ordinarily is provided by fewer. Mr. Bliss' plan offers a cure for that condition. Help the cause and get a certificate of membership that will establish your party affiliation. It is expected that all the 8,000,000 Republicans will give $10 each, but if a goodly number who can afford it do so there will be a great many more able to give much more than $10 each time because Republican success will mean to the country in fullest measure preparedness, protection and permanent prosperity.

Mr. Hughes is seeing how big the West is, and the West is seeing how big Mr. Hughes is. It is a happy arrangement.

Friends of Wilson are still trying to explain what he meant by "no peace without victory." But can they tell us what he meant by "strict accountability?"

"Excellent Judges," says Colonel Henry Watkinson, "have ever proved disappointing candidates." He is right. Alton B. Parker was a big disappointment to the Democrats. And so is Charles Evans Hughes.—Toledo Blade

The Newspaper Is My Best Medium

This assertion was made by W. L. Douglas of Douglas Shoe fame. From a small boy "bound out" by the then drastic apprentice system he has become one of the greatest shoe manufacturers of his time and also the governor of his state, Massachusetts. Through it all Douglas has given honor where honor was due and attributes his success to the use of the newspaper as an advertising medium. To quote Mr. Douglas, "First he sure you have something worthy—something that is just as good as you say it is. Struggle to keep it as good and then keep advertising it constantly. The Newspaper is the field in which my advertising brought me the only satisfactory returns. And I have tried many lines before settling exclusively to that theory."

Prosperity came, but it did not arrive fast enough for the young manufacturer and financier. He looked about for the means of increasing it. The method he chose was extensive and unceasing newspaper advertising, and the plan, successful from the first, has grown more and more remunerative. By judicious newspaper advertising Douglas quickly outgrew factory until in 1892 the present huge plant was constructed just out of Boston.

His victorious campaign for the governorship of Massachusetts was such as to arouse national interest in the man. His wide use of newspaper advertising was easily the most striking feature of his spectacular campaign and contributed in no mean degree to his success.

Mr. Douglas was not an orator, but he knew the value of advertising. Instead of making a speaking appeal to the voters, he purchased columns in all the newspapers. A series of illustrations showing the life history of Douglas from the seven-year-old boy in the shoe shop through the various stages of his struggle and finally as the successful manufacturer made a popular appeal. And during the campaign he never neglected his business interests or let up on his shoe advertising. It was a system that could not lose. If he was defeated he would sell more shoes and if he was elected he would sell still more shoes.

The Progress has a service to offer you that is far above the average for a town of this size. Call us on the phone and have our advertising men come and explain to you in detail.

"THE MILLION DOLLAR DOLL"

"The Million Dollar Doll" which will be the offering at the Opera House on Thursday evening, has two of the best comedy characters on the stage today. Melvin Meekman, a henpecked husband, and Jasper Jackson, a colored servant, are left at home to look after the household when the others depart for the San Francisco Exposition. However, Melvin and Jasper are not to be outdone so they disguise themselves and ship on the same boat, Melvin as a common sailor and Jasper as a potato peeler. One can hardly imagine how much trouble these fellows can get into, on the voyage and after they arrive at the exposition they have a hard time getting even one meal a day and are about to give up in despair, when Melvin draws the grand prize in the Argentine lottery and becomes immensely rich. These characters are presented by Harvey and Harold Orr, both recognized stars in their line of work. Seats on sale tomorrow.

STILL MORE ALLIED VICTORIES.

London, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—Announcement of allied victories on important fronts coupled with reports of Greece's preparedness to enter the great war today has caused fevered optimism bordering on enthusiasm. Official reports from Berlin report the British capture of Binchy on the Somme; French troops bombarding the Bulgarian offensive; details of Russian victories in Carpathia;—all of which diplomats and military authorities contribute to the general feeling of allied strength against the Teutons. British dispatches announce Turks have joined the German and Bulgarian forces and are invading Roumania. Berlin advices tell of the scarcity of food in Germany. The distribution of food has not been satisfactory in so far as it has been so highly organized that it is almost on a ration basis.

AMERICANS MAY TILL MEXICAN FARMS

New London, Conn., Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—American farmers to till Mexican soil and American teachers to frame Mexican minds was the subject before the Mexican-American commission in conference today. Such a program is to be part of the regeneration of Mexico. Such numbers will be sent as will set an example for the Mexicans and there is nothing that will smack of American interference or control.

TROUBLES BREWING IN NEW YORK STRIKE

New York, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—Two persons were killed, others probably fatally injured, and eight were badly hurt in the first serious accident since the New York Traction company strike. A union railway car in charge of strike breakers jumped the tracks in the Bronx and collided with two automobiles. The dead are both men who were on their way to work. Four of the injured have fractured skulls. Police reported several attacks on elevated cars early today. Shooting in one instance and brick throwing in others.

VIOLATION OF NEUTRALITY BY GREAT BRITAIN

Washington, Sept. 12.—(By United Press)—A dispatch containing the alleged violation of American neutrality in the hold up of the Philippine steamer, Cepu by a British torpedo boat within the three mile limit was received by the state department today from Governor Harrison of the Philippines. Harrison transmitted his dispatch to the war department stating that the Cepu was attacked 1 1/2 mile from Carabo island in Manila Bay. The state department will make representation to the British government immediately.

SUPPORTERS OF CARRANZA CLAIM HE IS STRONGER

New London, Conn., —(By United Press)—Supporters claim that the Carranza regime is in a stronger position, and that a recall may be momentary expected. State and presidential elections are expected to take place before the first of the year. Mexican representatives at convention called on President Wilson to pay their respects at 2:00 this afternoon.
